

I object eliminating or significantly changing our current media concentration rules. It is a matter of helping defend democracy in this progressively corporate-controlled society.